

WAYS TO

MAKE YOUR FUNDRAISING

Fab-u-lous!

Looking for ways to add a Strictly twist to your fundraising this year? We've got some super easy (and sparkly!) ways you can get involved!

GET YOUR STRICTLY ON THIS BBC CHILDREN IN NEED DAY

Whether it's donning a bow tie for your Zoom call, or heading to work top to toe in sequins, this Appeal Day is the perfect excuse to get glam and look your best!

Simply wear something to make you feel Strictly Fab-u-lous! Why not download our Strictly themed badges to award the best dressed?

All it takes is a £1 from everyone taking part to make an incredible difference. Simply head online, or use our QR code to make your donation.

MAKE SOME GLITTER BAKES

Put a Strictly spin on a classic bake sale! Whether you add a little edible glitter on your cupcakes, or go all out with our Strictly Glitterball recipe, get baking this appeal.

Sell your cakes for a suggested donation, anything from £1 upwards, depending on how good you think the cakes are! Sell these at school, work, sports or social club, pub, from home or even to your neighbours - anywhere goes! Don't forget to download our Strictly themed cake toppers and decorations, and be sure to tag us when sharing photos of your creations on social!

TEA ROUND SHOWDOWN

Do you think you make the perfect cuppa? Well now is the time to find out! Take on tea-making duties for the day and each time you do, present the tea for judging. For every tea made - and tea scored - ask for a donation to BBC Children in Need.

Alternatively, why not get everyone in your team taking turns to make tea, with each round being scored. Everyone donates to take part and the person with the lowest scores is on tea duty for the following week!

All it takes is for you to download our voting paddles and print out our QR code, donating £1-2 each.

HOLD A 'STRICTLY 10' BAKING CONTEST

Feeling competitive? Get a group of keen bakers together and hold a baking competition. Ask anyone baking to whip up a storm and pay £2 to enter.

Then download and print our voting paddles, judging sheets and QR code, and invite people to try and judge the creations. Simply ask anyone scoring to donate £1. Make sure you keep records and tally up the scores! Who will get the perfect '10' and be crowned the best baker?

Don't forget to sell any leftover cakes once the competition is over!

STRICTLY COME PARTY

Get together with your friends, family or even school to host a Strictly themed party!

Put on your best glitzy gear and compete in Strictly inspired party games. Why not use the show's theme song or music from your favourite dances to play musical chairs, bumps or statues? Or why not have a sparkle face painting stand too.

And no party is a party without cake, so make sure you ask people to bring along some glittery bakes too!

Simply ask for a £1-2 donation for everyone coming along.

DO IT IN SPARKLES CHALLENGE

Run, walk or cycle 10km in your Strictly best, from full ballroom dancing outfits or in heels.

Why not make it a group challenge and get your friends and family involved too. If 10km is not the right distance, go further or take on less. Outdoors, or in the gym, don't sweat just sparkle!

Set up a JustGiving page and share details of your challenge with your network so they can sponsor you. Don't forget to tag us in your posts when sharing photos on social!

KEEEEEEEEEP DANCING - SPONSORED DANCEATHON

For those of you with moves, why don't you take on a dance-a-thon at school or work - asking friends and family to sponsor you.

You could either do this as a relay (having one person dancing at all times throughout a day) or see how many hours you can complete collectively as a group by all dancing at the same time.

Share information about your challenge along with a donation link to ask people for their support, and remember to 'Keep Dancing'!
