STEP UP FOR BBC CHILDREN IN NEED!

Hello! It's Katie and Harrison here from Race Across the World! We recently went through the challenge of a lifetime... racing from sunny Italy to freezing Mongolia with limited money and no phones, and - can you believe it - we're still speaking to each other! Now we want YOU to Challenge Yourself for BBC Children in Need!

Take on the Race Across the World form-time Bingo or a classic non-uniform day, a sponsored run, a bake sale of your favourite sweet treats - or whatever you think would challenge you and your school. We want you to get out there and raise some money for BBC Children in Need.

We were fortunate that we had each other to bounce off when growing up and learning to look after loved ones, but not every young person has that same support. That's why this year BBC Children in Need is raising money for young people across the UK who need someone by their side.

Our dream challenge is a custard cream eating contest! What's yours? Visit the BBC Children in Need website for all kinds of ideas.

Go go go! Get out and Challenge Yourself!

WHY WE EXIST

Right now, young people are facing greater challenges than ever. Anxiety and depression are rising. High levels of poverty are leading to inequality and lack of opportunity.

WHAT WE DO

We fund safe places and trusted adults across the UK, helping young people access life-changing support - from youth clubs to community spaces, refuges, homeless shelters, hospices and helplines.

WHAT YOU CAN DO

Your fundraising matters more than ever before. Young people shouldn't have to cope alone. They need someone who cares. Someone who acts. Challenge Yourself to make a difference.

JD Sports is supporting BBC Children in Need with a £1 million fund to increase young people's access to work experience, to develop their skills and confidence and to connect them with opportunities for their future.

Through this partnership...

50 ORGANISATIONS

will receive funding to strengthen local youth provision, supporting

10,000 YOUNG PEOPLE and around

90 YOUTH WORKERS

As a result, young people will have somewhere to go, something to do and someone to talk to.

WHERE DOES YOUR MONEY GO?

For thousands of young people across the UK, challenges are growing.

Your fundraising efforts will help to make sure that young people in every part of the UK have someone by their side to support them when they need it most.

MEET AKAALROOP

For as long as he's been able to look after himself, 14-year-old Akaalroop has been caring for his little sister, Rosie, 10.

Rosie has Down's Syndrome, is non-verbal and needs 24-hour supervision. While their mum and dad are there for them both, their dad works and has recently had spinal surgery.

BBC Children in Need funds a project worker at Sandwell Young Carers, which supports over 400 young carers in West Bromwich.

Last year,
